

CHARACTER BIO - KAE SOR

A hot-tempered native of the planet Achyria, Kale used to work in a plasma foundry in the city of Cedesh and run an underground operation stealing precious alloy from the empire's warehouses. After joining a cell of local rebels, Kael was part of a commando who sabotaged the foundry, disrupting the regulation of the plasma arc and triggering an explosion of the furnace. Despite the loss of dozens of workers, the destruction of the foundry kickstarted the uprising of Cedesh, overthrowing the imperial garrison. This victory was short-lived, as the empire unleashed an orbital bombardment on the city. Using old mining tunnels, Kael escaped the carnage and now hides with what's left of the rebel forces in the caustic deserts of Achyria, scavenging and ambushing ground troops in the ruins of the city.
